$10,000.00's Worth of High-grade New Spring Dresses

This sale differs from any other that has been held in Washington—in that we were permitted to make our own discriminating selections. They are NOT "job lots"—nor odds and ends—but highly desirable models, in complete assortments—the productions of New York's leading manufacturers—including many from our own factory.

New and exclusive effects—made up in the finest silks—refinedly plain, or combined with the utmost taste—trimmed and embellished with artistic originality.

Street, Sport, Afternoon and Party Dresses.

The Materials

Canton Crepe
Crepe de Chine
Georgette
Valette
Fashion Knit
Crepe Knit
Mallinson's Silky Way
Silk Knit

Important!

Note that there are plenty of the popular but scarce Grays and Tans—in women's sizes, as well as misses'—and that in the two last groups there are lots of extra sizes—another feature that makes this sale unique and unprecedented. There are all sizes: Misses' 14 to 18—women's 36 to 48—stouts 42½ to 52½.

It's a Sale in which every woman in Washington—young and mature—should be deeply interested.

1,600 APARTMENTS BOON TO NEW YORK

Workers to Get First Whirl at $35 Bargains Across Queensboro Bridge.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 22.—Some New Yorkers will be able to make out their monthly rent checks without a verbal explosion when the 1,600 or so new apartments to be built just across the Queensboro bridge from Manhattan are finished.

The buildings will be started soon to help solve the housing problem. Their erection was made possible when Gov. Miller signed a measure authorizing the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to invest some of its funds to relieve the housing shortage and bring rents back to a pre-war level.

There will be no elevator boys or hall service men in the new apartments, but they will have the distinction of renting at $9 a room. The tenants will have to walk up, but the average rent will be $24 a month, and the houses will be model apartments. Four-story buildings are planned.

Applauds in Rush.
New York has accepted the plan enthusiastically. In fact, the city's renters have already tried to get in on the ground floor. The insurance company reports it has about 150 requests for apartments, and ground hasn't even been broken.

Speed in construction is the keynote. And after the buildings are erected it will be speed in renting, but not until then. The preferential list is made of union workers who have promised to give a day's work free on the buildings in return for the chance to get an apartment, so others will have to wait before they can be served.

The group which is to be started will cost the insurance company about $1,000,000. If it is a success, it makes a big inroad in the housing problem, the company stands ready to spend about $100,000,000 and to keep the prices of homes at the lowest possible rate.

Favored on Materials.
The company has been assured by Samuel Untermyer, whose work as counsel for the Rockwood legislative committee investigating the building trust led to introduction of the enabling legislation, that it will get "better than cost" on all materials, and Walter Stahler, in charge of the buildings, says New York will have only a few more months to wait for its first attack on high rents.

New York, indeed, is in need of more homes, for the city has renewed its good-natured battle with London for world supremacy. Dr. Walter Laidlaw, executive secretary of the New York city census committee, has come along with figures to prove that if the same radius were used in both cases, New York would have 344,508 more souls in the greater city than London.

Dr. Laidlaw includes territory within nineteen miles of city hall, and thus gets Newark, Jersey City and Hoboken into his tables. The population in greater London on June 19, 1921, was 7,476,168 while that of what the doctor terms "largest New York" was 7,529,574 on January 1, 1920.

D. A. R. DRIVE TO SAVE QUAIN VIRGINIA HOME

Colonial Landmark at Fredericksburg Named in Pamphlet Appeal.

Special Dispatch to The Star.
FREDERICKSBURG, Va., April 22.—The Daughters of the American Revolution of Fredericksburg have issued pamphlets as a starter in a campaign to save "Kenmore," the handsome old home on Washington avenue in this city, built before the middle of the eighteenth century by Col. Fielding Lewis for his bride, Betty Washington, sister of George Washington.

Because of its associations with George Washington, its historic interest, its beauty, the local chapter is making a nationwide appeal for aid in restoring it to a permanent national monument status. The noted mansion is easy of access on the Dixie highway, and could be made a shrine and a memorial for all America. The price is $30,000, and a strong plea is made for the granddaughters of the men whose Washington led to seek back to its memory a part of the $35,000 which Fielding Lewis gave so freely for his country's liberty.

Mrs. H. H. Smith and Mrs. E. F. Birkenhead, who are now in Washington, will bring the proposition to the attention of the national D. A. R. congress, in session in that city.

INDIAN SUES OFFICIALS.

Chippewa Seeks Injunction to Prevent Patenting of Land.

Injunction proceedings were instituted yesterday in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia by John G. Morrison, Jr., a Chippewa Indian of Minnesota, against Albert B. Fall, Secretary of the Interior; Charles H. Burke, Indian Commissioner; William Spry, commissioner of the general land office, and Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury. The Indian seeks to prevent the classification of any portion of the White Earth reservation as "swamp and overflowed land" and the issuing to the State of Minnesota of patents on 600,000 acres of the land without consideration to the Indian tribe. Through Attorney Webster Ballinger, the plaintiff says the land is owned by the Chippewas and the proposed patenting of it to the state of Minnesota is illegal. Morrison also wants to prevent the use of tribal funds in defraying the cost of removing the Indian agency from White Earth to Cass Lake, Minn.

HONORS U. S. MAJOR.

Marshal Joffre Decorates Alvan C. Sandeford.

Marshal Joffre, hero of the Marne, yesterday conferred the decoration of membership in the Legion of Honor on Maj. Alvan C.
